

Commander's Letter of Endorsement

This is a requirement for active duty staff physicians who are NOT currently in training and it is in addition to the three "personal" letters of recommendation. The Commander's Letter of Endorsement must be written by the Commander who holds UCMJ authority over you at the time of application. Flight Commanders who hold UCMJ authority and are on G-Series orders may write the letter in the absence of the Squadron Commander. This is an opportunity for the Commander to verify the applicant meets all quality force indicators. This letter must address any pending UCMJ actions, adverse credentialing actions, UIF actions, or adverse physical fitness actions. The Commander's letter may include information about leadership potential, officership, and potential for success.

Note: Applicant's with negative quality force indicators are still eligible to apply and participate in the JSGMESB. All information in the Commander's letter will be taken into consideration as part of the selection process.
